From the National President

Next week I will be travelling to Singapore to attend the World Architecture Festival (WAF). WAF is a fantastic opportunity for the Institute to promote the work the organisation and our members are doing to an international audience. While there, I will be promoting the Institute's bid to host the UIA Congress in 2020 ...

From the Chapter President

There has been much concern amongst our younger members at the rise of unpaid internships – along with the majority of the profession I share these concerns. Discussion on the issue seems largely centred on 'ethics' – around the benefits an architecture student or graduate derives from unpaid work, versus the contributions of the student or graduate to the productive output of a practice.

Don't silence experts: professional bodies add oomph to any debate

Public debate about policy issues is something we need a lot more of. There should be a contest of ideas because there's no question that a diversity of views on the merits of policies leads us to a well-informed position in the end.
