From the National President

Next week I will be travelling to Singapore to attend the World Architecture Festival (WAF). WAF is a fantastic opportunity for the Institute to promote the work the organisation and our members are doing to an international audience. While there, I will be promoting the Institute's bid to host the UIA Congress in 2020, ahead of the official lodgement date in November. The UIA Congress represents

From the Chapter

Recently the University of Adelaide launched its new model making laboratory for the School of Architecture & Built Environment. This is a welcome addition to the school which has, under the leadership of George Zillante, been progressively re-inventing itself. In a move to strengthen ties with practice, the School announced the appointment of three new Industry Professorships, which have been awarded to

Don't silence experts: professional bodies add oomph to any debate

Public debate about policy issues is something we need a lot more of. There should be a contest of ideas because there's no question that a diversity of views on the merits of policies leads us to a well-informed position in the end. Professional bodies, industry groups, the media and the wider community all have a role to play in the public debate and these roles...
