

Project Architect, Part / Full Time
Melbourne, Inner south east
70-85K+

We are an emerging, design-led, boutique architecture practice offering a wide variety of high-end residential projects to challenge your creative and leadership skills.

Merrylees Architecture seeks an experienced Project Architect with minimum 5 years experience, mostly working in a project architect capacity on high-end residential homes in Australia. This is a minimum 4 days per week role, located in our boutique studio in the heart of Ripponlea Village. We value work-life balance, the studio is very relaxed and friendly, the projects and clients are carefully vetted to ensure we only take on jobs that will be inspiring and rewarding.

You will be a self starter who seeks the freedom of managing projects from start to finish, possess a natural design flair and have excellent communication skills to ensure projects maximise their financial and creative potential. You will demonstrate a strong understanding of contemporary residential design and construction documentation and be able to confidently manage a project on site. You will be able to confidently mentor junior staff, working on several projects at once while supporting the Director across all business related tasks. Excellent documentation skills is a given, experience working in Australia on high-end houses is a must, with proficiency in AutoCAD and the ability to 3D model in SketchUp.

Please apply to Jane Merrylees including a cover letter, CV and design portfolio.
